BUCKNELL WINNER OF FAST GAME

Hughes' Long Shot From Middle of Court Starts Scoring; First Half GW's.

FAST AND THRILLING
PLAY MARKS FINISH

Gosnell Accurate from 15-foot Line; "Dinty" Leads With Four Baskets; Visitors Count on Snowbirds.

Speed, coupled with a thrilling finish, marked the game which Bucknell won from the Hatchetite quint in the last minute of play, 34-32, at the Coliseum Wednesday evening, February 15. "Dinty" Hughes broke the ice by scoring with a long shot from the middle of the court, closely followed by a foul shot by Gosnell. Here Bucknell scored its first basket and from here on in the first half the count was nip and tuck, the Buff and Blue finishing the period on the long end of a 20-15 count.

Bucknell entered the second half with determination and with a clever passing game managed to draw the Hatchette guards up the floor, and then one of their forwards would sneak in a snowbird. In this way they knotted the count at 22 all. Gosnell got another free shot, but Bucknell was not to be denied, rigging a trio of baskets, making the score 29-23. Two more baskets by the Pennsylvanians placed their tally at 32 points. Here the Morsemen put on a spurt of speed and "Dinty" tallied twice in rapid succession, one being an exceptionally long shot. With a minute more of play

G. W. TRACK MEN HOLD PRACTICES FOR MEETS

To Enter Two Indoor Events; Several Runners from Last Year Back.

Track is getting under way at George Washington, and the Hatchetite trackmen are working hard evenings, at the Y. M. C. A. indoor track.
Despite many obstacles and a lack of proper facilities, Coach Morse hopes to put a speedy and well-balanced team on the cinder path this spring.

The Buff and Blue squad has already been entered in the Johns Hopkins and Georgetown indoor meets. However, it is in the open that the Morse-men expect to put forth their best efforts. Plans are afoot for entries in the Penn meet, the South Atlantic Championship meet at Charlottesville and several others.

Several runners have been showing good form of late and are expected to show speed in the coming events. Manson and Peake, of last year's squad, and Rowe, a newcomer, will probably represent G. W. in the sprints. Haines and Henderson are showing promise in the middle distances, while Tracey, Hobson and Quelve are the best in the "long run."

Nichols should add much strength to the team. "Nick" is the District record holder in the scholastic high hurdles.

Manson, Henderson, Peake, Haines, and Quelve should form the nucleus of a relay team which will be hard to beat. With more embryo Mercurys and Paddocks expected to report soon, it looks as though the Hatchettes should have a very successful track season.

FROSH NOT TO HAVE PROM.

President Fly, at the frosh meeting held Wednesday, February 15, read a letter of thanks for the flowers which had been sent to Hazel Price, a victim of the Knickerbocker disaster. Plans for a freshman baseball team were discussed. A sad blow to freshman plans was struck when President Fly announced that Bryan Morse had definitely forbidden a freshman prom because of the numerous other more important events that would take place during the year.

University Eagerly Awaits Junior Week

Finishing Touches Being Added by Various Committees To Make Period of Relaxation and Jollification Biggest Event of School Year; Faculty and Students Invited to Social Functions.

On the eve of Junior Week, the George Washington students and patrons await eagerly the opportunity provided for indulging in the one big period of relaxation and jollification of the school year.
As the few remaining days which span the interval of anticipation close down upon us, final finishing touches are being added by the committees in charge of the reception and tea dance, the Junior Prom, and the Glee Club concert and dance.

Reception From 5 to 7.

The Junior Classes extend to the faculty of the University and to the entire student body a cordial invitation to the reception and tea dance at the Willard Wednesday afternoon immediately following the Convocation exercises. A slight overlapping of these events scheduled for the same afternoon may cause the reception to start somewhat later than originally planned. However, it can continue until 7 o'clock, so that persons wishing to attend both places may do so with comparative ease.

Washington's Birthday to Be Busy.

A big basketball game with Virginia Military Institute is scheduled for Tuesday night at the Coliseum. Comparative records of this team and George Washington so far this year give indications for a close and interesting struggle at that time. Arrangements are under way for a contest with Catholic University Wednesday night, at Brookland, which, if consummated, will undoubtedly set a record for that day, February 22, as the busiest birthday George Washington has ever lived through.

Prom to Be Climax

The big event of this eventful week is the Junior Prom at Le Maison Rauscher Thursday night. To the catchy tunes of the Southern Marimba Orchestra, at least 300 couples are expected to glide onto the floor at or about 10 o'clock that night.

Week Ends With Concert.

The schedule of Junior Week is to culminate with a big concert and dance to be given at the Raleigh Hotel Saturday night by the George Washington Glee Club. This is the big concert of the year for which the club has been preparing for months. The esthetic nature of this affair assures it a splendid success, since it will be welcomed as a pleasing let-down from the more strenuous athletic events staged earlier in the week. The members of the club on which Director King-Smith is depending for the success of this concert are:

First Tenors—R. H. Anderson, Charles H. Birmingham, Bartley H.
Corbin, Tom J. Davis, Preston Haynes, R. M. Hand.

Second Tenors—Robert A. Baker, Wilmer T. Bartholomew, Daniel F.
Lloyd, Jr., John W. Metsker, Robertson Reynolds, Albert Sperry, R. B.
Wooden.

First Bass—Ronald Nyman Marquis, Ronald N. Saunders, Millard F. Ott-mann, W. Graham Fly, H. K. Shaw.
Second Bass—William M. Ballinger, Philip C. Edwards, Albert J. Foley, R. D. Best, R. H. Harmon, Isaac Q.
Lord, Horace C. Young, W. G. Cushard.

SOPHS TO HOLD MEETING.

The sophomore class of Columbian College is going to hold a meeting to discuss future social events and other matters of class interest Friday, February 17, in the chapel of Lisner Hall at 7 p. m. President Tolson says that with proper cooperation and the support of every member of the class, he hopes it will be possible to give another mixer in the chapel and perhaps a "sophomore dance" during the semester, and to that end he urges all members of the class to attend.

OHIO CLUB POSTPONES MEETING.

The Ohio State Legal Club's meeting, which was to have been held last Monday, has been postponed to another date to be announced later.

G. W. BASKETBALL PLAYER
ADMITTED TO DISTRICT BAR

Playing on the basketball team proved no obstacle to Willard K.
Bracklow in passing the bar examination, as he was admitted to the District Bar, along with some 103 others, on Monday, February 13. Bracklow has played forward on the George Washington varsity squad for the last two years.

WRESTLING TO FOLLOW BASKETBALL CONTEST

Team Meets Gallaudet Tonight; Arrangements Being Made To Play C. U. February 22.

Along with other George Washington University organizations, the basketball quint faces a busy week beginning with tonight's game at Gallaudet.
Next Tuesday the Hatchettes play V.
M. I., while arrangements are under way to play Catholic University at Brookland Wednesday evening, February 22.

The game with the "Silents" should be of a high caliber, although the Buff and Blue should not be hard pressed to turn in a win, as they handily did when the Kendall Greeners were defeated at the Coliseum January 6.

Directly following the basketball game, the G. W. wrestlers will attack the "Mutes" in five matches. These matches should be watched with interest, as it is the first appearance of the Hatchette wrestlers. The following men are scheduled to hold down the mat in the five matches: Bruce, 125 pounds; Hundley, 135 pounds; May or Stokes, 145 pounds; Corbin or Young, 158 pounds; Tyler, 175 pounds.

SCHOOL TOURNAMENT SET FOR JUNIOR WEEK

Second South Atlantic Annual Meet Includes Many Local Basketball Aggregations.

February 21 and 22 are the dates set for the big inter champ high school basketball meet to be staged at the Central Coliseum under the direction of Bryan Morse, Director of Student Activities at G. W. Manager Fitz Hurley, of the varsity, will be in charge.
The annual basketball classic is expected to be the scene of unusually hard-fought games this year, as the best aggregations within 50 miles will compete for the championship.

Baltimore City College, last year's champions, will clash with Loyola, Baltimore city champions, and Tech; one of Washington's best, before repeating their victory in 1922.

Nine games will have to be played before the winner is found, six on the first and three on the second day. The last game, when noneliminated meets noneliminated, should prove especially thrilling. No team will play more than once without an interval of four hours.
Competitors will be chosen by lots.
The first game will begin at 12 o'clock February 21 and playing will be almost continuous.

This tournament is an excellent addition to Junior Week. Mr. Morse has taken great pains to secure the best teams, and Fitz Hurley's preparations guarantee satisfaction to the visiting teams and to the game patrons.

Following is the list of the participating teams: Tech, Business, Eastern and Western High Schools of Washington; Emerson Institute, Georgetown and Gonzaga prep schools, of this city; Hyattsville and Alexandria high schools.

DANCING STIMULATES INTEREST IN MEMBERS OF MUSICAL COMEDY

Dancing from 9:45 p. m. to midnight is the latest innovation of the managers of "Hold Everything" to stimulate interest in the comedy. The chapel in Lisner Hall is available for this purpose. All the tables, chairs, etc., are taken out of the room, leaving a room large enough to accommodate seventy-five couples.

Music will be furnished by such talented musicians as Edward Wheeler, Harry Sokolov, and Irving Brotman.
These boys play for the dancing and singing cast of the comedy.

Joy, through this medium, is only obtainable by those who are working for the success of the show, admittance to any other is taboo, according to William S. Becker, manager of the show. However, this does not limit anyone, for there are places on the cast for everyone who will come out to rehearsals Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

MUSICAL COMEDY NOTICE.

Rehearsals for "Hold Everything," George Washington's musical comedy, are held in the chapel in Lisner Hall on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays of every week at 8 p. m. You are urged to come out and make the musical comedy the biggest success of the year.

TEN-PIECE ORCHESTRA MAKES PROM SUCCESS

Committee Spares No Pains To Make Affair Biggest and Best in History of University.

OVERLOOKS NO DETAIL

Preparing for Tasteful Decorations by Frats; Patrons and Patronesses Announced.

"The Junior Prom gives all indications of going over the top as strong as it ever has heretofore," says W. Cameron Burton, who is entrusted with the success of this event. Much thought has gone into the preparation of this mammoth affair. No details have been overlooked and no pains have been spared to gain for it the success achieved by its predecessors. In the 10-piece Marimba Orchestra, Mr. Burton has secured an ensemble of musicians who are "right on the firing line" when it comes to satiating the palates of collegiate dancers.

Six more days and 300 couples will be at Rauscher's fox-trotting and bunny-hugging to the dulcet strains of "The Sheik," "Song of India," and numerous other popular ballads. When those Darktown melody boys, with their moaning saxophones, plunking tenor banjos, crying trombones, weeping violins, and animated ivories start their syncopated perambulations, look out!
Any feet that stand still will have to be glued to the floor.

Everybody who is anybody will be there with their best girls. Boys, remember the fable of the ant and the grasshopper. Don't fool away the rest of these few remaining days and give some other fellow a chance to ask your girl to the big nup. Ask her today and then pull the old "soup to nuts" out of the moth balls and have it shined up a bit.

dered from Philadelphia, but whether

THOUGHT MATH. INSTRUCTOR DESIRED TO ENTER CLASS

Prof. Hankin, With Injured Pride, Drives Away To Cool Wrath.

The bell had rung for the dismissal of the 6 o'clock class and had turned loose the hungry mob. A few students lingered in the classroom arranging for their cribs for the next day, and Mr. Daniel, teacher of the algebra class, was gathering up his papers.

In the door came a muffled figure.
Hesitantly he walked up to the desk and waited. Waited with the deference the average student gives to a professor. Mr. Daniel gathered on.
The muffled figure spoke.

"Mr. Daniel, er, my name is Hankin."

"Yes, yes," replied Mr. D., not looking up. "Do you want to enter this class?"

Then, with the uncertainty a man asks his lady for a date when he has recently broken one with her, with the hesitancy a hubby tells his storm and strife of the sickness of his friend, Jim Brown, with the blubbery stutters of a youth, wrongfully accus'd of cribbing, the muffled figure spluttered out: "Er, no; I, myself, am a teacher of mathematics."

Riotous bursts of laughter resounded from the hall and the students gathered around their cribs fled with giggles and snorts of mirth. And it is said that Mr. Hankin drove his "individual fivver" with the wrath and speed of a Jehu as he betook his wounded pride to home.

UNIVERSITY SETS HIGH ENROLLMENT RECORD

The commencing of the second term of the year in the University marks the setting of a new high record in the number of students enrolled. Of the several colleges, Columbian College has the largest enrollment, 2,067 students, and the Law School ranks second with 1,006 students. The College of Engineering holds third place, having enrolled 531 embryo scientists.
Teachers College has on record 357; Graduate School, 309; Medical School, 148; and the College of Pharmacy, 21.
The Department of Arts and Sciences alone numbers more students on its rolls than most of the universities and colleges in the country. Its total enrollment is 2,955 and the Law School ranks high in point of numbers in the National Association of Law Schools.

WASHINGTON, D. C. FEBRUARY 17, 1922

Cosmopolitan

George Washington University may be considered the most cosmopolitan university in the world. It is situated in the most cosmopolitan city of the United States, and this country is undoubtedly the most cosmopolitan nation on the globe. This factor should be advantageous in making this the best known and greatest university in the United States.

Association with people from so many States in the Union and from other countries necessarily enlarges the vision and viewpoint of students in all things. They begin to see the other fellow's side of the question and are imbued with that "touch of nature that makes the whole world kin." It enables them to receive the best preparation for entrance into outside life, and gives them a better understanding of fellow men.

The atmosphere of our University seems to infuse into those who are bending before the sacred shrine of knowledge a power of unconquerable ambition. Few students are attending classes in order to fill up a few of their youthful years with pleasures common to college life, but the great majority have formulated plans for the future, which with a university's foundation behind them will enable them to become the future great men of this country.

So we realize that George Washington University is composed of students who would enable it to become the largest American university, were proper facilities and encouragement at hand. They are awaiting only the opportunity to do their bit for every possible and feasible improvement to the University that would be presented. Give them the opportunity.

(Adopted from an editorial submitted to Instructor Daniel A. Chace in the Journalism Class by Helen Shaw.)

A Successful Basketball Season

Although our team has lost several basketball games, it is experiencing the best season of any university in the country in comparison to previous records. We should be proud of our team and help it climb to success. A very noticeable fact at the game with Virginia last Saturday night was the presence of more students from Virginia than from George Washington. This condition looks mighty bad to a visiting university, especially when they read that the enrollment of our school has reached nearly five thousand. The Virginians rendered some yells that made our absence of same mighty noticeable. But we are having a successful basketball season, notwithstanding our defeats, and every student should realize this and boost the team.

It is almost time for some one to make that wise crack that the Glee Club concert next week will be a howling success.

The directors of our musical comedy announce they need two more waves for the ocean scene. Applicants should apply to anyone between 2 o'clock.

The rehearsals are held in Linsner Hall behind closed doors, and this gave a student the inspiration for a new song, which he has called "Peeping Through the Keyhole Every Other Night."

Here are some suggested questions for the Traffic Bureau to substitute for ones now in use, and which are asked applicants for drivers' permits:

1. From which side of a car should the driver alight?
2. Which way must you go on a one-way street?
3. What is the speed limit in (a) San Francisco; (b) Berlin; (c) Canada?
4. On which side should you pass (a) a fire engine, (b) ambulance, etc.

MISCELLANEOUS SUPPLIES COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS

CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED BY MUSICAL COMEDY CO.

William Becker, Director of "Hold Everything," Urges Student Support As Necessary.

The following letter has been received from William S. Becker, manager and director of the George Washington musical comedy, appealing to the fraternities and sororities for their support of the show:

"The Editor, The University Hatchet: 'No one doubts the great value of a show as an advertising medium for a university. The Pennsylvania Mask and Wig Club, the Michigan Opera and scores of similar organizations have proved how much publicity is gained by the schools that turn them out. A number of George Washington men and women are now trying to produce a musical comedy, under my direction. If we are successful we will do the same for our school that the Pennsylvania actors have done for theirs.

"It is absolutely necessary, however, that more students come out to rehearsals. With all the talent and ability that is so evident among the fraternities and sororities of G. W., this seems to me a very lamentable and quite unnecessary condition.

"Here is a chance to make name and fame as a student worker in a line of activity that requires initiative and personality, and affords a chance for the student to do real service for his school.

"If more persons do not come out for this show it will have to be put down as another failure, due to lack of student support. Everyone in the University must do his or her part in this enterprise and thus help to make 'Hold Everything' the finest college musical comedy that has ever been staged.

"William S. Becker, Managing Director, 'Hold Everything'.

The managers of "Hold Everything" are planning to organize a players' club along the lines of the Pennsylvania Mask and Wig Club. Membership in this society will be restricted to members of the cast of the comedy this year, who will be charter members, and to the casts of future productions of the same type, according to Mr. Becker.

Noted men who have done work to make the show a success and the quality of whose work is unquestioned are Harold A. Krell, who wrote the music; Clyde W. Kramer, who wrote many of the lyrics; and Earle R. Barnard, who is instructing the chorus.

Among the students who have parts are Kendall E. Canfield, Lee Aitchison, Robert Baker, Charles Palmer, Edward Wheeler, Charles Connolly, Robert Bolton, Dorothy Waters, Margaret Fitzgerald, Billie Michels, Emma Tom Fusch, Margaret Fusch, and Constance Donohue.

MASONS HOLD DANCE.

More than 100 couples were present at the annual dance of the G. W. U. Masonic Club held at the Meridian Mansion, 2400 Sixteenth Street, last Wednesday evening to greet Dean Merton L. Ferson, the honor guest. The committee in charge of the dance consisted of Raymond B. Harding and Russel B. Benson.

The Masonic Club meets every third Saturday of the month at the Law School. The next meeting has been announced for Saturday evening, February 18, in the alumni room. All Masons are cordially invited.

BUCKNELL WINNER OF FAST PLAYED GAME

Capt. Daily was successful with a difficult shot, again tying the result at 32 all.

Play was fast and furious here, both sides guarding closely, at the same time trying to score. With less than 20 seconds more of play, Bihl, the visitors' right guard, sneaked under the basket and sneaked in a snowbird, winning the game for his team, 34-32.

"Dinty" Hughes was the star of the contest, through his guarding work and being the leading point scorer, dropping in four fingers, two of which were from a long distance. Gosnell showed up especially well at the foul, counting ten times out of 14 tries, as well as banging the basket for two from the floor. Failure to successfully connect on snowbirds was the contributing cause for defeat, Altrup missing at least four in the last period.

Bucknell took fewer long, random shots, thus showing up better in relative accuracy in shooting from the floor, getting 13 baskets out of 48 attempts for a 27 per cent accuracy, while the Hatchettes were successful 11 time out of 61 tries, for a 20 per cent accuracy.

SENATOR KING TALKS TO-UTAH LEGAL CLUB

States Why He Voted Against Eighteenth Amendment.

Senator William H. King, of Utah, was the speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Utah Legal Club of the Law School, held Tuesday evening, February 7.

In opening his address, Senator King impressed the need of preparation in law and preparation for law. No student, Senator King said, should attempt to study law until he has had a firm foundation of general knowledge in the form of one or more degrees. Then, in studying law, plenty of time should be taken so that the principles of law may be learned thoroughly, for it is the lawyer who gets the standard of the nation.

Senator King sought to explain why he voted against the eighteenth and nineteenth amendments to the Constitution, when in reality he was a believer in both prohibition and woman suffrage. He also stated that the maternity bill passed was an insidious attack on the rights of the States to legislate for themselves.

The Utah Legal Club was organized at the beginning of the present school year and has become so active that it has stimulated the formation of several other State legal clubs in the Law School. Vernon Romney is president of the club, which has a membership of some 30 Utah men. The aim of this club is to organize G. W. alumni in the State of Utah to boost the G. W. University. The club also aims to study its State laws and statutes as well as law in general. It meets the second Tuesday of every month, for which times the best legal talent of the city is obtained to address the society. Such well-known men as the Hon. Rueben J. Clarke and former Senator George S. Sutherland have already addressed the society. All law students are cordially invited to attend the monthly meetings, regardless of their home States. The Utah Legal Club is also 100 per cent signer of the student activity tax.

1922 CHERRY TREE IS SEEN AS BETTER BOOK

Will Be Sentimental Reminder of Many Joyous Days Spent at George Washington.

There is a feeling of sadness about a college campus during the last days of the college year. Here and there you see little crowds wending their way to the railroad station, each one to go back to his home, severing college ties forever.

When the train pulls out at last it is then that they realize it is the last of those four wonderful years of college life, with all of its sentiments, all of its friendships and all of its allurements.

It is no wonder they turn to their college annual, if they are so fortunate as to have a copy, and look upon it with a feeling of reverence and affection as they realize that in its pages are recorded in picture and in text all of the important events which transpired during the last year of their college life.

Your own 1922 yearbook will be a little more costly. We have realized the necessity of making use of experienced people in helping us plan our book so as to make it radically different. The skill of professional book illustrators has been used freely, so that every section of the book will fairly teem with new, striking and beautiful features.

Only a short time remains now in which to order your annual. Are you saving your money so you will be sure of obtaining a copy? Don't take a chance and wait until the book is published, because at that time there will be no opportunity whatsoever of buying a copy. Be sure to order a copy to be paid for before March 1, as after that date it will be too late to get one.

PROM-CONCERT TICKET ARRANGEMENT AIDS SALE

"The sale of tickets has thus far been quite gratifying," says John Paul Earnest, director of finances. The sale of tickets for any large affair is always sluggish until a few days preceding the event, and the largest sale is not expected until next week. But the arrangement by which those attending the prom may receive free tickets to the Glee Club concert-dance is proving exceedingly popular, and this is bound to reflect by facilitating the disposal of tickets.

"I am well satisfied so far with the progress of the tickets and feel sure that the price set at five dollars to include both affairs will be strongly supported by the entire student body."

TANK PRACTICES HELD.

Weekly tank practices are being held by the girls' swimming team and work is progressing rapidly in preparation for the Red Cross life-saving tests, which will be given in about two weeks. The girls are practicing steadily with high hopes of winning the coveted emblem. All girls interested are urged to come out as soon as possible.

ALCHEMISTS INITIATE
NINE NEW MEMBERS

The Caravan of the G. W. U. chapter of the Alchemists, formerly known as the "Ancient Egyptian Order of the Mystic Adepts of the Sacred Art," has started on its journey to the Pyramids and Temple of Aphis, according to George W. Clarvoe, one of the newly initiated members.

The nine new members admitted to the secret inner circles of alchemy who in the future will toil unceasingly over crucibles and alembics in search of the "all spirit" and the "elixir of life," are George W. Clarvoe, '24; William H. Heller, '24; Charles F. Dyer, '24; Ellis Haworth, '24; George L. Roberts,
'23; Frederick C. Schultz, '25; Wm. P.
Epperson, '25; Richard P. Ryan, '24; John L. DeLawder, '23.

Twenty active alchemists have pledged themselves to solve during the ensuing year the three great mysteries, so that the labors of Hermes Mercurius Trismegistus and his associates will not have been in vain.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB PLANS TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

A treat is promised to the students, to take place in the early part of March, by the members of the Girls' Glee Club. The club plans to give a real, bang-up concert of song, college-and otherwise, and will supplement the program with dances, both excellent and extraordinary. The girls have been practicing regularly under the able direction of Mrs. Sweat and have attained a high degree of excellence in the rendition of their songs.

In the past the Men's Glee Club has taken an active part in the affairs of the University, and it will have to work doubly hard now that its formerly exclusive field has been invaded by our lady songsters.

The program of their concert has only tentatively been decided upon, and announcements of it and the plans for the concert will be made to the students of the University in the near future in order that they may keep the night of the concert open and make their arrangements for attending.

DR. BLUM ADDRESSES CHEM.-ENG. MEETING

An illustrated lecture on the "Electrodeposition of Metals" was the feature of a joint meeting of the Chemical and Engineering Societies Wednesday, February 15, in Lisner Hall.

Dr. Blum, Ph. D., engaged in research work at the Bureau of Standards, explained the fundamental principles of electrodeposition and its application in the development of industries. The process involving the use of the metals, nickel, copper, brass and zinc in the electroplating of commercial articles was detailed. Refreshments followed the intellectual feast.

question. A little bird has whispered to us that programs do not seem to be of much use these days.

PRESIDENT TO RECEIVE ARMS STUDENT COMMITTEE

Representatives of 225 Colleges Send Testimonial Relative to Limitation of Armaments.

Representatives of the National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armaments are to be received by President Harding on Monday, February 20, and present a testimonial setting forth the opinions of the college students of this country relative to the main issues which have been discussed at the arms conference and the treaties which will go to the Senate.

The committee now has a membership of 170 collegiate student bodies who have been holding meetings and passing resolutions upon questions which will be included in the testimonial.

Representatives of 225 colleges assembled in a conference at Chicago last November authorized the organization of the National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armaments, with the purpose of stimulating among college students an interest in the issues confronting the Washington conference and mobilizing and expressing the student sentiment regarding them. The representative from George Washington University to the Chicago conference was Howard W. Hodgkins, son of President Hodgkins.

Since it was formed, the national student committee has been active in all parts of the country. Chairmen have been appointed in the different universities and State and regional chairmen selected from them.

John Rothschild, of New York, the executive chairman, in an interview with Secretary Hughes on January 23, presented a statement to the American delegation at the arms conference.
The statement had been authorized by the various State chairmen of the students' committee. It voiced the admiration of the students for the efforts of the American delegates to eradicate the danger of imperialistic war in the Far East and expressed the hope that the visiting delegates would take cognizance that, in so far as American ratification is concerned, the fate of some of the earlier decisions of the conference which seem distinctly favorable to them is undoubtedly dependent upon the generosity of their present decisions. It spoke particularly of Shantung and the vexed questions of Siberia and Manchuria.
